LOSES EAR IN BIG THANKSGIVING SLUG

Bout at Victory Air Dome Thursday Night Changed "Go" Mitchell to
"Stop" Mitchell — Cameron
Fight Stopped by Police

Before a "baiter" disappeared, a small crowd of men, attracted by the report, staged the attack. After a few minutes, a "baiter" was seen to be actually extracted from the bag by a man who registers the moving motion of a "Go" pitcher.

The bout was scheduled to leave the assistance of eight spectators, but the "Go" reversed the strategy. In the second round, and was defeated technically knocked out by the long lumberjack John Allen, known who witnessed the exhibition of the 180-pounder "Go" are suggested the spectators will consider changing a "Go" pitcher.

Big rise went at "Go" battery at the going and rhapsodized the minor. In the second round sent over a nose warmer and the sight of blood and no extra time allowed to wipe the smaller eliminated "Go."

Stop Grunt-Cameron Mill.

At Grunt, of New Orleans, and Harry Cameron were to go eight rounds, but the bout was stopped in the second by Chief Jones. Grunt was awarded the decision. Cameron, who has a cauliflower ear, was awarded pitilessly on that score member of the Grunt-Cameron in the second round Cameron took the count of the game, his ear was merely banging by a string, having been torn loose. At the nine count he rushed for Grunt and Chief Sleuth Jones stopped the fight.

Cameron exhibited prizefighter's moxie, but the victory was permanently retire him from the prize ring.

PREMEN'S HALL BACKTALL COURT.

The use of the upper floor of the Premen's Hall has been secured by the Ray Rinkists, local basketball organization, for the use of a basketball court. The place has been put into shape for the purpose. The game was given this week when the Ray Rinkists scored just 2 points, and that was only during the first half. The "Rinkists" pass works a puzzle to their adversaries. Captain Russell Ladner, of the "Rinkists," announces everybody is invited to attend the games, which will be announced from time to time.

General Pershing is suggested as a successor to Secretary of War Weeks. While the general is highly capable and deserving, it would be better to continue the policy of keeping at the head of the War Department a civilian, who is always able to obtain the technical advice needed from army officers. A few days ago the entire village turned out to honor the memory and achievements of Ottmar Mergenthaler and place a memorial tablet on the house in which he was born in Hatfield, Germany. As a struggling young inventor, his home town failed to recognize his mechanical genius, so he emigrated to America and gave to the world the linotype, which revolutionized the printing industry and stands as one of the epochal inventions of all time.

Some plan for making men and women of voting age take part in elections by registering and casting their ballots may be brought before Congress. Several State legislatures are to consider similar measures. The idea is that if people were compelled to vote or pay stiff fines, more of them would inform themselves concerning matters of government and that this alone would make for better citizenship. Only about one-half of those eligible voted on November 4th.

Gus J. Karger died the other day in Washington and his funeral was attended by the President of the United States, a former president and chief justice, many senators, representatives and other dignitaries who gladly did honor to his memory. He was a newspaper reporter. As such he had enjoyed the confidence of several presidents and many members of both parties and he had never betrayed a trust. He was chairman of the standing committee on the Senate.

An editor declares that much of the fiction of our day is grossly immoral. But why limit the criticism to fiction? The same might be said of the lives of many of our leading men. The lives of some of our leading men are so full of crime and vice that they would make the most immoral fiction seem like a model of purity.

THE BOOM IN STOCKS

It didn't take long for the stock and bond markets to get busy following the election, though men who keep posted on such affairs state that the feverish selling would have taken place regardless of what party was victorious. Reports from Wall Street show that the upward bound of prices has been remarkable, many stocks going to the highest point they have reached for years.

All of this kind of news is of interest, for it indicates better prices for farm products and possibly better wages for those who do not live off the land. But at the same time we are able to see a note of danger in it that it will encourage the dealer in worthless stocks and bonds to reap a harvest along with those who deal only in gilt-edge securities. There is already enough worthless stock hidden away in many a home to serve as a warning, but it won't do any such thing. With the stock market booming, as it is now booming, and with men cleaning up thousands of dollars, other men are going to jump in blindly and buy stocks without investigating their value.

The soaring stock market indicates prosperous times—and we are all glad of that. But not prosperous times for the man who buys blindly or takes some stranger's word for the value of the stock. Liberty bonds and government bonds are still the safest buy in the world, but if you feel you want more interest, or more profit on your money, then ask a bankers' advice before you lay down your cash or sign any kind of agreement.

"HONEST JOHN" WINS.

Regardless of political views, the come-back of "Honest John" Burke, former treasurer of the United States, elected to the supreme bench of North Dakota, will be pleasing to those who admire integrity and courage.

After a long and honorable public service, Mr. Burke, at the age of 63, found himself "broke," having turned over his entire fortune to pay the creditors of a bankrupt brokerage firm in which he was a partner.

He might have taken advantage of the law and have saved enough out of the wreck for a new start, but he chose to give up everything, so that his creditors might not be losers.

North Dakota voters recognized that a man of such a high sense of honor, coupled with fine legal attainments, was eminently fitted for a supreme court judgeship. Although a Democrat, he was elected in spite of the Republican landslide.

Those who are inclined to lose heart when confronted by misfortune may take courage and inspiration from the story of "Honest John" Burke.

IF YOU WOULD LIVE.

If you want to live to see the trees grow green again and to feel the balmy breezes of spring, don't run your auto engine in a closed garage. Don't run it for even three minutes without having the door or window open, or carbon monoxide gas will get you. The gas is colorless, tasteless and almost odorless, but it quickly kills by paralyzing the respiratory organs. The victim often loses consciousness before he realizes what is happening. A 23-horsepower auto will discharge enough of the deadly gas in a closed garage on a cold day to kill the healthiest person within five minutes time. There is little danger in the summer, because garage doors are left open, but in cold weather, when the driver wants to warm up his engine, or when he wants to do a little work on the car indoors, the number of deaths from this deadly gas mounts up enormously. They are already occurring in numerous parts of the country. Leave the garage doors open every minute that the auto engine is running.

AFTER THE GUNMEN.

More than 400 persons carrying concealed weapons were arrested in Chicago in one day last week, as a result of Mayor Devers' drastic order to "clean out the gunmen."

Terrorized by killings, safe blowings, highway robberies, and other forms of crime, the people of that city are demanding action, which the authorities finally seem disposed to take, with a view to relieving the intolerable situation. The first step is very properly directed towards disarming the criminal element, more than 1,000 of whom were jailed in a few days.

Gun toting is responsible for most of the homicides recorded from day to day. A man who habitually carries a gun in a civilized community is generally a coward or a criminal—often both. The habit is a national menace and will continue to be until restrictions are placed on the manufacture and sale of firearms.

An interesting development of the present Chicago situation was the announcement by one of the leading mail order houses that it would no longer sell fire arms of any description.

An editor declares that much of the fiction of our day is grossly immoral. But why limit the criticism to fiction? The same might be said of the lives of many of our leading men. The lives of some of our leading men are so full of crime and vice that they would make the most immoral fiction seem like a model of purity.

ENGINEER WAS GALE

W. R. Holway was engineer of Tulsa's $7,500,000 project by which water for that city is brought from Saginaw lake, 55 miles away, by gravity. His final fee of $15,000 depended on the water coming through and hundreds of people declared the gravity system wouldn't work.

Mr. Holway proposed that a check for his $15,000 be sealed in a tin can and started through the long concrete conduit, he to take the chance that it made the fifty-five mile trip.

The plan was at first agreed to, but was not carried out, as it developed when the water was released a few days ago that it reached Tulsa a day ahead of the promised time, more than vindicating Mr. Holway's confidence in his work. So he got his check in the usual way.

When a reputable modern engineer tells you he can accomplish something, it is a pretty safe bet that he will make good. Hats off to Mr. Holway.

A HELPFUL STUDY.

We notice where rural schools in a number of places over the country are adding a helpful course in simple farm accounting. The teachers devote a little time daily to teaching the boys how to keep a set of books—not a hodge-podge or complicated bookkeeping system, but enough of the fundamentals to enable them after a few months to be able to keep track of farm accounts, to tell what has been paid out, when, to whom, and what for, and to keep trace of all revenues derived from the farm. Whether the lad remains on the farm or enters some other trade or profession, this simple little study of bookkeeping is bound to be worth something to him in after years. It also assists in teaching lessons in fractions in profit and loss—studies that are a bugaboo to every boy who looks into an arithmetic. We are passing the idea along to rural teachers in the belief that, since it is proving successful elsewhere, it might be well worth looking into more thoroughly.

BUYING BY PICTURE.

There are quite a few people in Bay St. Louis who do their buying by picture. They look over a catalogue and read the glowing descriptions. Their mind can't stand the strain, it sounds too good, the picture is too pretty, so they shoot their money for goods to come in the mail a week or two later. Not only do they pay cash, but they pay in advance, and without having laid eyes on the goods. Not only this, but these same people, when they haven't the change handy, buy at local stores and frequently let the bill run eight or ten months. If the local merchant doesn't extend credit, they get mad and begin to talk about how high his prices are. If they get something that isn't satisfactory, however, they shoot it back to the home merchant. If they bought it by picture and got "stung" they keep it to themselves—but go right ahead and get stung a second time. Verily, buying by picture is a funny and an expensive proposition.

SOME HANDY WORDS.

If you want to designate an object for which you have no name handy, the following list of words coined for the purpose has been compiled by a writer in the American Mercury:

Thingumbob, thingumajig, thingumadoodle, dingus, dingbat, doofnunk, doodad, doodadle, doogood, dooflickus, doofjohn, dohickey, doobobbus, doobiddy, doowhacker, gadget, fumadiddle, dinkumjigger, fakus, kadigan, thumadoodle, optriculum, ringumajig, hoopendadiddle, dibble.

By keeping those in mind, you will have no difficulty in finding a name for anything under the sun. Or, you may be able to think of something just as good. The only restriction is that it must not mean anything in particular.

Dr. Paul V. The latest "death ray" is thought to have been invented by a student of San Francisco, who was granted an interview with President Coolidge and offered to sell the device to the government for $100,000. The device is said to project a beam of light which will kill any living thing it strikes.

Railroads Don't Make Their Own Rates

What the railroads charge for their passenger and freight service is a matter of extreme importance to every citizen of the United States. Every fair-minded man and woman believes that the owners of the railroads (nearly two million Americans are directly interested in railroad securities) should receive a fair return on their money invested. For many years this condition has not prevailed.

Contrary to general opinion, the railroads do not make their own rates, this being the principal duty of the Interstate Commerce Commission, a governmental bureau which has for many years established and controlled the making of all interstate rates and supervised the work of various State Railroad Commissions in making intra-state rates. The only thing new about rate making is the designation on the part of Congress, through the Esch-Cummings bill, (See 15A of the Interstate Commerce Act) of what is considered by Congress as "a fair return."

This figure was fixed on March 1, 1922 at 5 1/2%—at which it now stands. The Government does not guarantee any return to the railroads, but simply says that for rate-making purposes the roads are permitted to earn 5 1/2% upon their aggregate property value. This is the particular section of the so-called "Transportation Act" that is being so much discussed by politicians and will receive so much of the attention of Congress.

The railroads believe that they the largest volume of business should be given the opportunity in their history and are entitled to operate under this act until, during outstandingly good service, there is a demonstrated need for rate to the American people—rate revision. Great improvement yet they have not earned the money have been made in rate permitted "fair return" of 5 1/2% road service during the past two years. Does this look like rates are too low—the roads are handling high?

Why tamper with the Transportation Act? Give it a chance.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Forwood and house guest, Mrs. Benbrook, left Monday morning in the new family auto for a trip to Forest, Miss., by way of Hattiesburg, on a visit to Rev. and Mrs. Forsythe and daughters.

—Mrs. George J. Toca and daughter, Eunice, and Mrs. Buran Ladner spent Sunday at Biloxi, visiting relatives for the day. Mrs. Toca also spent Thanksgiving holidays with friends in New Orleans.

—Rye Grass Seed for your winter lawn, at 20c per pound. Adams Florist, Pass Christian.

—Mr. "Manly" Blaise spent Thanksgiving at Baton Rouge, La., where he witnessed the annual football clash between L. S. U. and Tulane, his son, Clarence, a member of the former squad. He returned home Friday noon.

—Misses Olga Dubuc and Myr Dubuc left Thursday night for Mobile, where they are spending the while visiting at the home of their cousin, Miss Claire Combel, and enjoying a round of Thanksgiving season festivities in social season.

—Dr. and Mrs. Alvin P. Smith and family left Wednesday for Sumner, Miss., where they are spending Thanksgiving with Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. Eaton, and family. They also visited their relative, Miss Alice Ransen, house guest of Mrs. Eaton.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Arceneaux and family have taken possession of the bungalow in Main street recently completed by Emile Perre, after a thorough renovation, and are comfortably domiciled in their attractive new home.

—Miss Olga Dubuc motored over from Poplarville, where she is attending high school, for Thanksgiving Day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Dubuc. The trip was made by motor with a party of friends.

—Mr. George R. Rea spent Thanksgiving at Baton Rouge, where he visited L. S. U. in official capacity as national treasurer of Kappa Sigma fraternity and witnessed the annual football game versus Tulane, returning home yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Rea spent Wednesday in New Orleans.

—Mr. Anthony Piazza this week signed a contract with Contractor Edw. Osborne, local builder, for the immediate building of a bungalow dwelling for his own family occupancy in Ulman avenue, near the Munchow "Cozy Cottage." The plan is attractive and the model of latest type.

—Attention is called to the advertisement of Rye & Co. Florists, represented in Bay St. Louis by Mrs. Abigail Bourgeois, at the Peacock Tea Room. Orders taken for any and all occasions and delivery assured in time and at any place. It will save time and worry.

—Prof. T. L. Trawick, former resident of Bay St. Louis and superintendent of city schools, spent Sunday in Bay St. Louis, attending St. Stanislaus Home-Coming Day and visiting friends and acquaintances generally. Prof. Trawick since leaving here has been a member of the faculty of Warren Easton High School, New Orleans.

—Every detail for this evening's Thanksgiving dance at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club has received due attention and the scene for tonight's affair is in readiness. The club's affairs are always a signal for a good time and this evening will not be the exception. It is expected there will be a number of out-of-town guests in attendance.

—Mrs. W. A. Sigerson and Miss Josie E. Welch have formed a co-partnership for the conduct of a real estate agency, and already the ladies have been quite active and successful in their business pursuit. Both are well known and business women of ability and their activities in the real estate field will redound to the building of better and bigger Bay St. Louis.

—Mr. and Mrs. Sam Piazza are rejoicing with friends over the advent of a son at their home in Otizen street—their first born. The genial young father, who helps preside over the business at the Pickwick Shop, on the Beach Front, is justly jubilant and is receiving the many expressions of congratulations and best wishes from his young friends and older ones as well.

—From appearance there is every evidence the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club dance, celebrating the Thanksgiving season, and to be given this Saturday evening, is going to be one of the club's most prominent and successful events. Members will pay a fee while the ladies will be admitted with the compliments of the club. It is planned to make this affair an event of the social season. Secretary Dubuc has had the place attractively decorated.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Janbert and sons, George, Howard and Vernon, came out from New Orleans Sunday morning to attend S. S. C. Home-Coming and Dad's Day, returning home Monday, registered at the Munchow "Cozy Cottage."

DOUBLE-HEADER

On Central School Court Wednesday Night

The Bay Athletic Club, recently organized, of this city, plays its first scheduled basketball game on the local High School court with the strong Picayune Hi team, of Picayune. The B. A. C.'s promise a real good game. The Bay Hi girls will also play Picayune Hi girls on the same night.

Come out and see your local team in action. Don't forget the right, for you will surely miss two good games. Admission: Adults, 25c; children, 15c.

—The Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, ever a center of social and civic attraction and the organization identified with every wholesome endeavor, was the scene of a successful "round party" Monday night, given under the auspices of Catholic Neighborhood Circles of the city, with Mrs. E. J. Lacoste chairlady. Liberal were the contributions of good things to eat and of other provisions, and seniors of St. Stanislaus College attended the affair in a body and contributed their mite in cash, which totalled over $20.00. Mrs. Arguedas, music and dance teacher, had her pupils render a charming program. Auguste Saucier's family of jazzers furnished music and the "College set" of boys and girls danced for "sweet charity's sake" until a while after 10 o'clock.

—Wizard Brand Pulverized Sheep Manure. Best for flowers and vegetables. Adams Florist, Pass Christian.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. C. McMillan, former Bay St. Louis residents, are here in their auto from Grand Bay, Ala., where Mrs. McMillan is engaged in the cultivation of citrus fruit. Mr. McMillan is still the active representative of Fox films, and was combining business with pleasure. Mr. and Mrs. McMillan have many friends here who warmly welcome their visit.

—Bro. Lambert, former well-known and beloved president of St. Stanislaus College, now back of the college at Baton Rouge since September, was here for the week-end, spending Sunday in hunting and fishing pastimes with Bay St. Louis friends and Sunday attending S. S. C. celebration. Bro. Lambert met friends and acquaintances of the six years he was located here and there was mutual pleasure in every meeting.

—Arbervitae, Palms and other Evergreens for beautifying your home grounds. Write for price list. Adams Florist, Pass Christian.

CARD OF THANKS

On the recent occasion of the death of husband and father, A. Battistella, we wish to extend our thanks and express our gratitude to one and all who were with us from time to time during the period of the illness and subsequent death of our departed one. Especially do we feel grateful to Rev. Father Gmelch, Sisters of St. Joseph, Pere Leduc Council, Knights of Columbus, Merchants Bank and Trust Company, Hancock County Bank and all other friends and acquaintances of Bay St. Louis.

LIFE AND CHILDREN.

Bay St. Louis, Miss., Nov. 26, 1924.

CARD OF THANKS

As a mark of appreciation and expression of our thanks, we wish to say how grateful we feel to the one and all who were with us with tender ministrations and sympathy on the occasion of the death of our beloved one. Alphonse Ferdinand Ramond, who passed away Thursday, November 20th, aged 25 years, especially do we wish to thank Rev. Father Gmelch and the Sisters of St. Joseph Academy. We indeed feel grateful to one and all.

KILN ACTIVITIES

Miss O'Donnell, the former home-schooled girl, who is now a teacher in this work, has been joined by the various clubs. The members, at the suggestion of the home science teacher, elected a meeting and elected the following officers: Velma Hills, president; Edwina Haas, vice president; also elected a committee consisting of: Ollie Curet, secretary; Elizabeth Lane, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Love and daughter, Miss Elizabeth Love, and James spent Thanksgiving in Franklinton, as guests of Mr. N. D. Stringer.

Mrs. Henry Dandridge, who has been sick for several days, is up again. Miss Marga-t Dandridge is pretty sick with the flu.

Mrs. Elizabeth Curet, of New Orleans, spent last week with her daughter, Mrs. Lorraine Curet, who is attending high school here.

Superintendent Keller was a visitor to Kiln and the school last Tuesday. He is well pleased with the school and says ours is the best school in the county.

Little Frank Manning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nat Manning, is sick with the flu.

Misses Edwina Haas and Ollie Curet have met with bountiful success in raising a purse to make Father Dennis happy on Thanksgiving Day.

KILN SCHOOL

The seventh grade of Kiln High School has organized "The 90 Club" for the students making 90 per cent and over in arithmetic. There are twenty-one students in the class and fourteen belong to the club. They called a meeting and elected the following officers: Alphis Mitchell, president; Eugene Crow, vice president; Gladys Harrel, secretary; and Annie Dandridge, treasurer. These officers join their teachers in boosting the club and trying to make it 100 per cent.

The Logtown girls' and boys' first team played Kiln Friday, November 21st. The boys scored 9 to 5 in favor of Logtown, and the girls scored 23 to 18, also in favor of Logtown. The Kiln girls played splendidly considering that was their first time to play in three years and having only two weeks' practice. The games were witnessed by many visitors, both from Kiln and Logtown.

Miss Myrtle Mader, who was called home by the death of her grandfather, Mr. Battistella, left Monday for Lafayette, La., where she is attending Southwestern University.

PETITION FOR PARDON

To His Excellency, the Honorable Henry W. Whitely, Governor of the State of Mississippi: We, the undersigned, residing and doing duty in the State of Mississippi, respectfully petition your excellency to pardon Thomas Francis, a negro who was convicted of manslaughter on the 22nd of February, 1923, for killing another negro and sentenced by the Circuit Court of Hancock County to serve a term of ten years in the penitentiary, and in support of executive clemency would respectfully show as follows:

That up to the time of this trouble he was always a good, hard-working, faithful negro. That he is a veteran of the World War. That the killing for which he was convicted was done by him with a brick in an old sack or cloth that was on the floor and used to hold the door of the house open, the brick being thrown across the room at the negro who was killed.

That the killing was not intended and that a fuss was had and trouble existing at the time between the two men.

We respectfully submit that he has been sufficiently punished, and that since his confinement in the penitentiary he has become a helpless cripple, as shown by the letters hereto attached.

We respectfully petition his full pardon so he may return to his aged mother and sisters and spend the remainder of his days.

Respectfully submitted: Robert Genin, Clerk; W. G. Benford, Jos. V. Bontemps, Sheriff; E. J. Giering, Edwin Prevaux, D. S.; A. S. Farris, D. C.; H. L. Kergosien, D. C.; Ernest J. Ladner, and others.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

Letters testamentary on the estate of Joseph F. Cazeneuve, deceased, were granted to the undersigned by the Chancery Court of Hancock County, State of Mississippi, on the 3rd day of November, 1924, and notice is hereby given requiring all persons having claims against said estate to have the same probated and registered by the 15th day of December, 1924, and a failure to so probate and register for six months will bar the claim.

This November 15th, 1924.

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

Visit of Rt. Rev. R. Garow.

"He came, he saw, he conquered." That is the way S. J. A. Bishop Garow's visit has been described. Of course he belonged to us from the time of his consecration, yet since his visit we look to him as to a father.

S. J. A. feels it has a special claim on his lordship because of his love for children, which was realized during his visit when dismissing all formally he showed in his interest in every phase of our school work. We trust to have our kind Bishop with us often.

An Unexpected Pleasure.

Friday night the boarders were entertained by Katherine Dodge, a charming week-end visitor. Her selections called forth both tears and smiles, and the S. J. A. girls thank her for a very pleasant evening.

Birthday.

Midst all the celebration in the Bay Sunday, S. J. A. was not to be excluded. To the contrary, it echoed with sounds of birthday celebrations. Margaret Rose Schwartz, we are all sure, will never forget her tenth birthday. Rose and white decorations made the dining room attractive to the little people, and covers were laid for the whole birthday school. Novelty favors were distributed and even the cream and cake carried out the lovely and appropriate color scheme of rose. After delicious refreshments were served, candles were blown out and novelties collected, the little minims enjoyed numerous games. The donkey party especially won their favor, and prizes were given to those having the best success in pinning on the donkey's tail.

"Little it," Margaret's little brother, a student at S. S. C., and Bro. Arsenius were also guests of the delightful party. This lovely little affair was to celebrate three other pupils' birthdays besides Margaret's: Estelle Jones and Mary Frances, of the minims, and Mary Goodwin Schaefer, of the high school department.

From S. J. A. comes wishes of many returns.

A Memorable Event.

Friday evening witnessed a victory on the part of the Gold Jays, our first team, over the fighting little second team, the Red Jays. Two cheering squads were formed to root for the respective teams.

Rivalry was in the air! Each crowd vied with the other in noise and the display of colors. Dolly Roe, cheer leader of the first team, and Oleah Mauffray and Jennie Green, leaders for the second team, kept up a steady fire of yells for their respective sides.

The game was a very close one. The second team, displaying just as much pep and energy as the first, succeeded in even tying with the latter at the end of the game. An extra five minutes was played and the Gold Jays came out victorious, under the splendid leadership of the captain, Adrienne Combe. Anna Mae Blaise, captain of the second team, proved to be able to keep her wits about her.

In all, the game was enjoyed by everybody who had the pleasure of witnessing it.

Visitors.

Among the visitors of the week were: Mr. S. Ward, of New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Slade, Mr. and Mrs. Flanagan, Misses Banville, Margaret and Mary Flanagan and Norma Lee Slade, all of Laurel, Miss.; Mrs. G. A. Schaffer, of Mobile; Miss Schlo, of New Orleans; Mrs. R. V. Abbley and her daughter, Mary, of Pass Christian; Berch Wilbert, of Plaquemine, La.

A Clever Letter Received by One of the Boarders.

Dear Ellen, your letter arrived here on time, And I can't keep from answering promptly in rhyme. You surely amused me each time that you write,

With tales of adventure from morning to night. The twenty-foot snake and the wicked old rat

Are now "hors de combat," which means laid out flat. What next? Well, here's hoping you

Will, here's hoping you will meet. A barefooted hobbit patrolling his beat.

Those pictures of "Lizzie" prove nothing to me. We're so well acquainted I never could see Why people waste money on big Cadillacs, Though they make you cuss when you run on some tacks.

This "Lizzie" of mine played the mischief this week. She acted so mean that we don't hardly speak.

I picked up a nail that I didn't much need, Then I put on my "spare" and proceeded to speed.

But I went just two miles, when, Alas and Alack!

I flattened again on a SHARP bit of the track.

Well, there I was stranded ten miles from Laurel.

And not a word I just say it was hotter than ****!

You know what the rhyme is, it ain't in no hymn.

And I rode a rough ride into town on the rim.

There are four "hills of Lizzie" and had once heads.

But they sure are the thing when you're taking heads.

Well, how is the road laid and how about Harry?

You reckon his known means he's known to marry.

He's got a lot of money, but he's got a lot of worry.

thoughtful young men.

For this married life-sometimes is worse than the Pen.

Ain't it fine how my wife and me have succeeded

In raising a "family"? We never have needed

A thing but some "kale" to bequeath to our heirs.

As it is, they'll be lucky to share in our prayers.

Say, this rhyming is easy, it just rolls along

Like Bells in your Belfry, like singing a song.

But my supper is ready, and right here quit,

It's me for the hash with a lickety-split.

Give Peggy my love, kiss dear Dora for me,

Tell Big Bill I'm as proud of his work as can be.

Regards to Boss Joseph; give Harry a pill,

Find Lennie job that it ain't hard to fill.

Wash the dishes, then wipe 'em; hang the towels out to dry.

Put the flour in the bread; take a look at the pie.

When these things are all tended to, get you a pad

And write forty pages to your dear old DAD.

Harmony Club.

One of the most delightful programs which S. J. A. has ever enjoyed was rendered by the Harmony Club, in honor of St. Cecilia's day, on Monday and Tuesday afternoons. The program for Monday was composed of:

Hymn to St. Cecilia—Club Members.

March des Traubadours—Jennie G. and Oleah M.

Rose Dreams, Song—Eighth and Ninth Grades.

The Violet, Song—Eleventh and Twelfth Grades.

Jerusalem, Song—Oleah M., Dolly Roe, Alice P. Accompanied by Juliette Perre.

Il Corricolo, Duet—M. Scaffide and Zoe Vial.

Come Where the Lillie Bloom, Song—Eleventh and Twelfth Grades.

The End of a Perfect Day—Student Body.

The second entertainment was a surprise to the entire audience, because we were permitted, for the first time this year, to hear our orchestra play. We agree with the enthusiastic members of the orchestra that soon they will be a great asset to the Convent. Tuesday's program was:

Academy March—Orchestra.

School Gallop—C. Schiro, M. Quinn and Helen Wolf.

March, Whirling Solo—Dixie Dodge, accompanied by Vida Palms.

Military March, Duet—Victoria and Adele Gabrie.

Betty at the Baseball Game, Recitation—Ellen Welsh.

Silver Nymph (piano solo)—Adrienne Combe.

Trail to Long Ago (waltz)—Orchestra.

Somewhere in the World (vocal duet)—Alice P. and Dolly Roe. Accompanied by Vida Palms.

Souvenir (violin solo)—Ellen Sullivan.

Nation's Recall, March (duet)—Dolly Roe and Alice Palanque.

Fantasia (piano solo)—Vida Palms.

Under the Double Eagle, March—Orchestra.

Procrastination.

It is never expedient to put off until the future what ought to be done now. Some unforeseen incident may occur which will prevent one from performing the belated task. To be procrastinating is an abominable habit. It is detrimental to one's character as well as an almost certain foreteller of failure. Being behind in the preparation of lesson assignments lowers one in the estimation of his teacher and classmates.

Lives are many times endangered because someone neglected to repair a machine or a bridge at the proper time. Much time, labor and money is wasted annually because some negligent person prefers to wait for tomorrow to do something that should be done today. The old adage "A stitch in time saves nine" has lost none of its savor of the wisdom of the passing of time. A tiny rivulet left to take its own course will, in a day or two, wash a whole section of the road away, while if the stream had been stopped at its origin, the road would still have been safe and much money and labor saved.

Not only is procrastinating a sin in the material world, but in the moral and religious side of human life it works the same havoc. A mother, thinking there is time enough yet, neglects to reprove her child during the plastic years of his life. Therefore, the habit growing daily and remaining untouched, is securely formed. Many painstaking lessons will be required to break the harmful habit, or, sad to say, it may never be broken.

But even more tragic than all is the loss of time, labor, money or success, is the last effect of procrastination that I would mention, which is found in the repeated action of putting off the accepting of Christ in one's life. It is so easy to say, "Not today, maybe tomorrow," and so easy to overlook the inevitable truth that for so many of us tomorrow never dawned. He cannot turn his back on the worldly pleasures that he enjoys today, for the more simple life of a Christian that he would choose tomorrow.

How much may happen in such a short time. Many are lost on the faith that tomorrow they will turn over a new leaf.

We would not be a zealous and believe that life holds only sorrows and hardships, or that it is a rigid training school where we may enjoy none of the beautiful things with which God has so lavishly supplied this earth, but neither would we say with the Epicureans, "Eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we may die." Rather let us seek a higher, more uplifting plane; let us grasp the opportunity that comes to us today, and be ready to conquer tomorrow, because we are doing today what should be done, and laying a firm foundation for the greater opportunities of tomorrow.

Helen limped painfully Tuesday. On enquiring we find that Virginia had stepped on her foot. We wonder if Virginia stepped on Mr. Gillis' foot, too.

Did You Ever See—

Such a busybody as Mat? Jesse—out of trouble?

Louis—when he was not preaching?

Willie—when he was not talking to Tess?

English—without his jelly-bean clothes?

Ruth—when she was not serious?

Armin—when she did not know her lesson?

Myrl—without powder an inch thick on her nose?

Jeannette—not enquiring over Sunday?

Kat—not asking foolish questions? Miss May—not taking names?

Ethel and Gladys—in school three days straight?

Velma—when she was not looking to see who was looking at her?

Tess—when she was not teasing Miss May?

Rosa—when her mind is not wandering in M?

City Managers

New Orleans Item, November 28.

Few realize the growth of the City Manager plan in the United States. Cincinnati is the latest city to adopt that form of government. About 800 municipalities, with 5,000,000 citizens, have adopted the plan. These cities include: Cleveland, Dayton, Pasadena, San Diego, Wichita, Portland (Me.), Grand Rapids, Springfield (O.), Knoxville, Beaumont, Norfolk, Charleston and Wheeling (W. Va.). Cleveland is the largest, with a population of more than 800,000.

Other cities interested in the plan are sending representatives to these cities to study it in operation. The idea spreads. It works well and in harmony with government by commission. Many regard it as a logical development of commission government. If its successful application in these 300 cities continues, within a few years it will be the popular form of municipal government. As matters stand it is giving the ward politicians something to think and worry about.
